

STEM Education Trends

There is a disconnect between taking STEM courses in high school and pursuing related college majors

Average High School Credits Earned in Math and Science

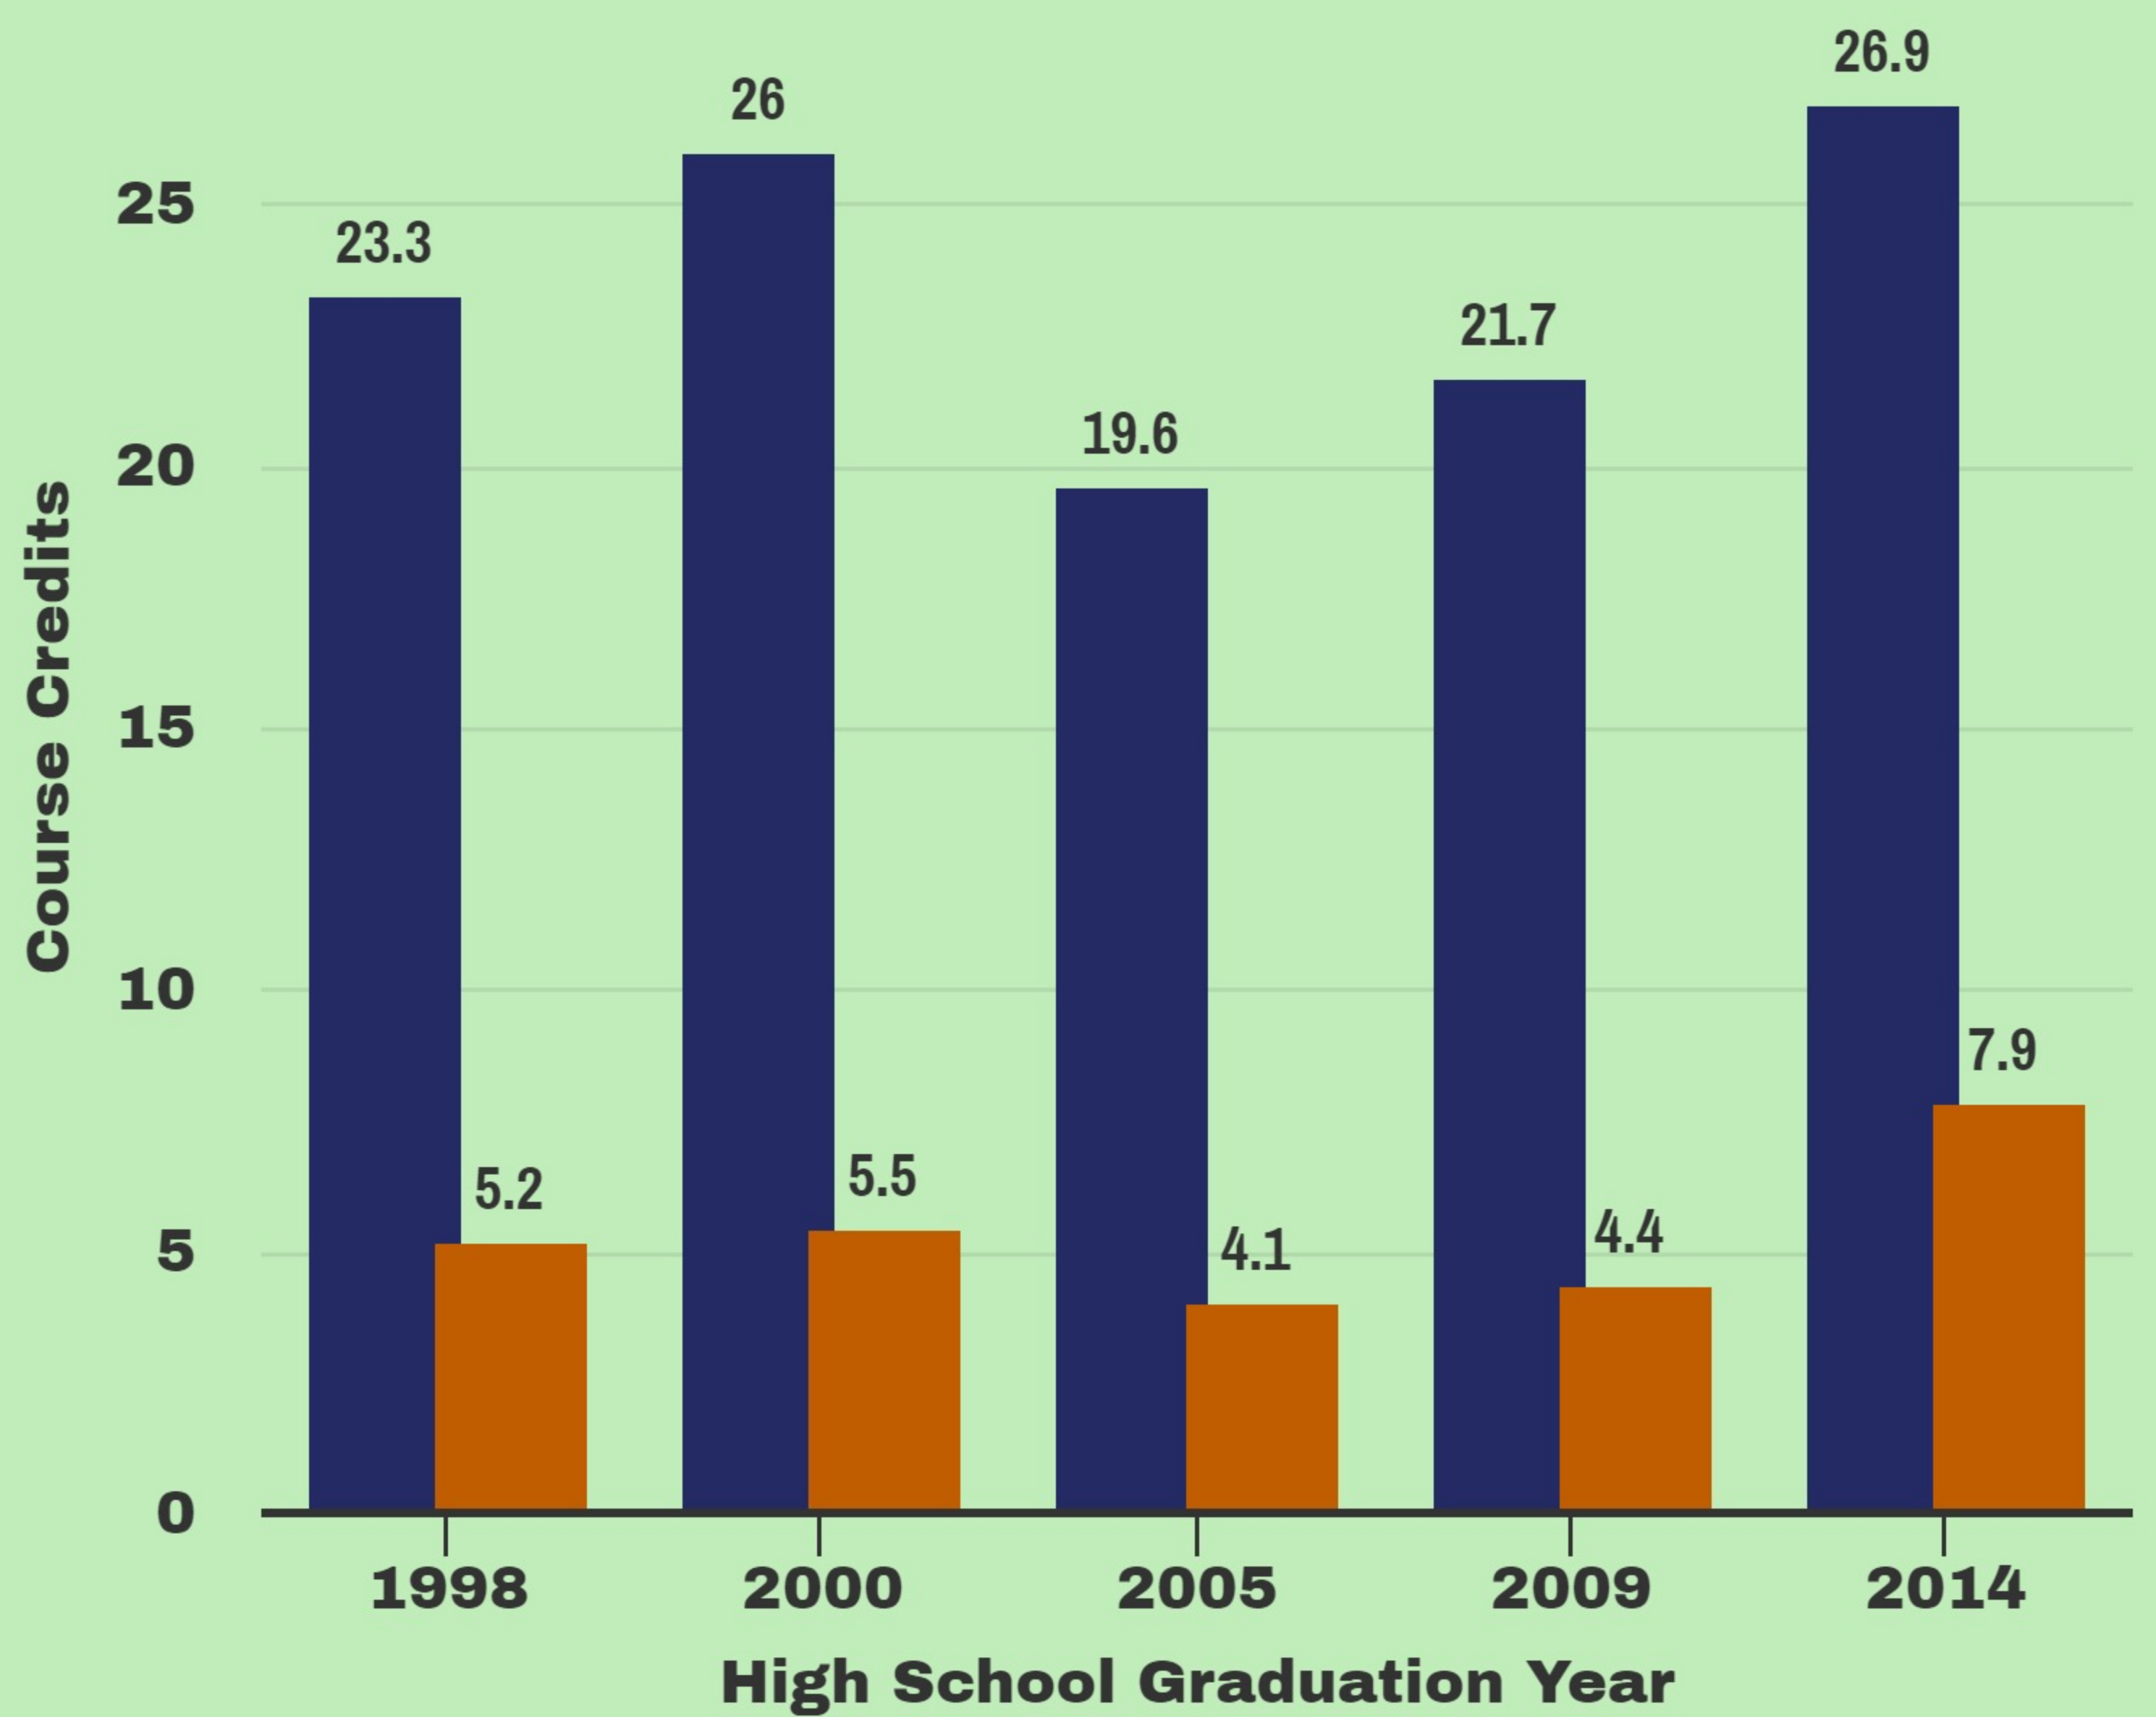

Males and females are both taking more courses in math and science in high school

● Male ● Female

Percent of College Freshmen Indicating Intent to Major in Engineering, Math, Statistics or Computer Science Fields

But when they head to college, females are still less likely to enroll in STEM fields

● Male ● Female