

HAPPY BIRTHDAY PLYLER & DACA

June 15th is the 40th anniversary of the landmark Plyler v. Doe Supreme Court decision asserting the Constitutional right of all children in the United States to receive a K-12 education, regardless of their immigration status.

June 15th is ALSO the 10th anniversary of DACA¹, the 2012 Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals program that allowed certain people who came to the United States as children, if eligible, to receive temporary protection from deportation and obtain a work permit. DACA has improved the lives of almost a million people living in the United States since 2012.

Check out the opportunities below to take action and show your support for this important decision and program and the rights of all our children!

1. Although DACA has been an incredibly important tool to keep families and communities together, it has never been sufficiently inclusive and accessible, and it has too often been under threat. Immigrant youth and advocates have called for improvements to DACA's financial and logistical accessibility with automated renewals and fee waivers, reductions in processing delays, strengthening DACA via codification, and a true pathway to citizenship via legislation. Plyler is very well-established law. It is now incorporated into federal statutory law through a provision expressly indicating that Congress would not interfere with Plyler rights as it sought to restrict other rights of immigrants in the 1990s. See 8 U.S.C. § 1643(a)(2).
