Thank you!

Thank you to everyone who joined us at our Annual IDRA La Semana del Niño Parent Institute either in person or via the livestream.

We're excited to share some resources with you!

Our 20th Annual IDRA La Semana del Niño Parent Institute was a great success, and our participants helped make it strong. Our hope is that you will take the information you learned and the connections you made and use it to help strengthen education in your community. Our public schools belong to us!

The event webpage is our home base for resources following the institute. We have posted presenters' slides and handouts there.

And we've posted photos from the parent institute on our Flickr page. Take a look and feel free to download photos you like!

The livestream video shot by Nowcast-SA is available online at IDRA's YouTube page .

The Intercultural Development Research Association is an independent, non-profit organization. Our mission is to achieve equal educational opportunity for every child through strong public schools that prepare all students to access and succeed in college. IDRA strengthens and transforms public education by providing dynamic training; useful research, evaluation, and frameworks for action; timely policy analyses; and innovative materials and programs.

We are committed to the IDRA valuing philosophy, respecting the knowledge and skills of the individuals we work with and build on the strengths of the students and parents in their schools.
