Help us celebrate IDRA's 48th Birthday!

For almost five decades, IDRA has been committed to building communities in which every child receives an equitable education.

Education helps turn weakness into strength. Education gives us the confidence to stand for ourselves. For almost half a century, IDRA has worked tirelessly to address the multiple challenges schools face in ensuring that all children can reach their full potential.

Today, you can help by supporting our work through your generosity.

The Intercultural Development Research Association is an independent, non-profit organization. Our mission is to achieve equal educational opportunity for every child through strong public schools that prepare all students to access and succeed in college. IDRA strengthens and transforms public education by providing dynamic training; useful research, evaluation, and frameworks for action; timely policy analyses; and innovative materials and programs.

IDRA works hand-in-hand with hundreds of thousands of educators and families each year in communities and classrooms around the country. All our work rests on an unwavering commitment to creating self-renewing schools that value and promote the success of students of all backgrounds.
