

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

IDRA's SEEN School Resource Hub is designed for educators, families and policy advocates who want to make sure students receive a strong, truthful education in our public schools. It provides lesson plans for all grades, instructional best practices and historical resources to support educators and advocates in promoting culturally-sustaining schools and fighting harmful censorship policies. Below are some highlights!

Gladys Bentley – Gender-Bending Harlem Renaissance Performer and Musician

Learn about the trailblazing, gender-non-conforming performer Gladys Bentley with this digital short from Unladylike2020. (Middle & High School)

African American History: Climbing the Wall

In this lesson by PBS History Detectives, students learn how the life of an enslaved person changed from the Antebellum period through Emancipation. (Middle & High School)

CulturED Collection #2 – E-raced: A Lesson Uncovering the False Science of Race

This lesson by IDRA introduces students to the history of race. Includes modifications for emergent bilingual students. (High School)

The Real World: Understanding the Difference Education Makes

Students learn how higher education is linked to higher weekly incomes and how incomes vary by racial group. Includes modifications for emergent bilingual students. (Middle School)

The 1921 Tulsa Race Massacre

This lesson explores the events and legacy of the 1921 Tulsa Race Massacre. Students will view C-SPAN video clips of historians and residents of Tulsa to learn what occurred and how it was remembered. (High School)

Yes, She Can: Michelle Obama

With this lesson by IDRA, students will learn about the important experiences that shaped the life of the first Black U.S. First Lady. Includes modifications for emergent bilingual students. (Elementary School)

Get these and more lessons at www.idraseen.org/hub